

SHANGHAI / 7 SEPTEMBER 2026

Transparency Report

The evolving role of OSPOs in AI governance

Open source strategy. Trusted systems. Shared practice.

A community of shared practice

OSPology + OSPO Summit brought open source practitioners together to explore AI governance, trusted systems and organizational change.

64

REGISTERED ATTENDEES

Total event registrations

41

COMPANIES REPRESENTED

Among registered attendees

47

CFP SUBMISSIONS

9

PROPOSALS SELECTED

47 ideas. Space for only 9. Thank you to everyone who submitted and to the committee for shaping the program.

WITH THANKS

ByteDance Open Source - Diamond Sponsor vivo - Supporter Sponsor

Program committee, organizers and speakers, especially Ryan Tao, Zhiqiang Yu, Horace Li and Ana Jiménez Santamaría.

Part of KubeCon + CloudNativeCon + OpenInfra Summit + PyTorch Conference China 2026.

Source: organizer-provided figures. Registrations are not verified onsite attendance. Company representation indicates organizational breadth.

Session highlights

Open ecosystems, trusted supply chains and the practical work of bringing AI into organizations.

Open ecosystems and sovereignty

Li Jiansheng, Ryan Tao, Zhiqiang Yu & Amanda Brock

Global and local open source: choices for enterprise participation.

Session details >

Trust in the software supply chain

Marcel Kurzmänn & Meixia Wang

OpenChain practices for transparency and collaboration.

Session details >

Building an OSPO in a legacy organization

Marcel Kurzmänn & Jane Cao

Bosch's experience connecting existing practices into an OSPO.

Session details >

Agent harnesses, MCP and OSPOs

Ana Jiménez Santamaría

Open infrastructure, interoperability and the next governance frontier.

Session details >

CNCF YouTube channel >

Find recordings on the CNCF YouTube channel as they become available. Publication is expected within two weeks of the event.

Explore the complete program >